No conduct by Telefónica shall be deemed to constitute acceptance of any terms put forward by Supplier or any other terms.

2.2 Telefónica shall be entitled to vary the terms and conditions set out herein from time to time and any such variation shall be binding upon Supplier with effect from the date at which the Telefónica PTs, as set out on the Telefónica Website, are updated to reflect the relevant variation. It shall be the Supplier's responsibility to visit the Telefónica Website periodically for the purpose of familiarising itself with the then current Telefónica PTs. Where a change to the Telefónica PTs (a) has a direct, material and significant impact on the Supplier's provision of the Services; and (b) will unduly and unreasonably prejudice the Supplier, such change will be subject to mutual agreement. If the Parties cannot reach mutual agreement, the Supplier shall be entitled to terminate the Agreement upon 30 days' written notice to Telefónica.

3. CHANGES IN REQUIREMENTS

If any such change causes an increase or decrease in the cost of or timing required to provide the Deliverables, either Party (acting reasonably) shall be entitled to request an equitable adjustment to the Charges or Completion Date or both. Any request by Supplier for adjustment under this clause must be made within 15 days from the date of receipt by Telefónica of the notification of change.

Each VAT invoice shall contain the particulars required by statute in respect of VAT, the PO number and any other particulars prescribed in the PO and shall be sent to the invoice address specified in the PO. Telefónica will pay Supplier within such period agreed between the Parties from time to time (including as specified on the PO or in an Agreement) or, in the absence of such agreement, by the first Friday after expiry of 45 calendar days from the date of receipt of a correct invoice submitted in accordance with this clause. Telefónica reserves the right to refuse payment of part or all of any invoice which is not submitted in accordance with these Telefónica PTs. If either party fails to pay any correct and undisputed amount due on time, the other party shall be entitled to charge and receive interest at a rate of 2% per annum above the base lending rate from time to time of Barclays Bank plc. Such interest shall accrue from the due date until the date of payment and shall be calculated on a daily basis. For the avoidance of doubt, any credit notes issued by the Supplier shall be due immediately.

6.2 Telefónica and the Supplier agree that the remedies set out in an Agreement and/or the PO (Liquidated Damages) (if any) are reasonable and proportionate to protect Telefónica's legitimate interest in performing an Agreement.

6.3 The PO may refer to an amount which exceeds the Charges agreed between the Parties and those set out in an Agreement. For the avoidance of doubt, and in the event of inconsistency, the agreed Charges shall take precedence over the amount set out in a PO.

6.4 On Telefónica's request, both Telefónica and Supplier shall register for and use the electronic procedures of the Adquira e-commerce platform ("Adquira") for the purpose of raising POs and submitting and viewing invoices under an Agreement. In such circumstances, the Supplier agrees that it shall formalise its relationship with Telefónica Compras Electrónicas, S.L. through a corresponding contract and acknowledges and agrees that in doing so, it shall be required to pay certain upfront and recurring fees to Telefónica Compras Electrónicas, S.L. Where Supplier registers to use Adquira, all invoices subsequently submitted by Supplier to Telefónica must be submitted via Adquira, unless otherwise instructed by Telefónica.

6.5 Supplier shall provide a statement of account promptly upon request from Telefónica.

7.3 In the case of an Agreement related to Goods, Telefonica shall be entitled without cost or liability to terminate an Agreement in respect of all or part of a PO at any time up to 30 Working Days prior to the agreed date for shipping of the Goods on giving written notice to the Supplier. In the case of an Agreement relating to Deliverables other than Goods, Telefonica shall be entitled without cost or liability to terminate the Agreement in respect of all or part of a PO at any time on giving 30 Working Days' notice to the Supplier. In the event that Telefonica terminates an Agreement or any part of an Agreement pursuant to this clause and without limiting clause 7.5 below, Telefonica shall pay the reasonable costs and expenses incurred by the Supplier in connection with the Agreement or part which has been terminated up to the date of termination provided always that the Supplier shall have an obligation to mitigate such costs and expenses and to demonstrate to Telefonica's reasonable satisfaction that the same have been incurred.

7.4 If at any time during the term of an Agreement the Supplier is subject to a Change of Control, Telefonica shall be entitled to terminate absolutely that Agreement without penalty immediately by notice in writing.

7.5 If an Agreement is terminated for any reason: (a) any sums due to Telefonica shall become immediately payable by Supplier without set-off or deduction; (b) Supplier shall return to Telefonica all tangible property and Confidential Information belonging to Telefonica in its possession, custody or control and Telefonica shall return to Supplier all of its tangible property and Confidential Information in its possession, custody or control; (c) each Party will cease use of the other Party's Confidential Information and IPR; and (d) each Party will, at its sole option, either return or destroy all records, documentation, data, and any other information and all copies thereof which are owned by or licensed to the other Party ("Information"), and on the other Party's request, a director of the recipient Party shall certify in writing that the Party has complied with this clause.

7.5A Notwithstanding clause 7.5(d), a Party shall be permitted to retain one copy of Information received under the Agreement for a period of five (5) years after the expiry of the Agreement (the "Retention Period") solely for the purpose of satisfying legal disclosure obligations (the "Retained Information") and provided that at all times (i) the recipient Party maintains the Retained Information in confidence and exercises in relation to the Retained Information no lesser security measures and degree of care than those which it applies to its own confidential information; and (ii) any access to the Retained Information is on terms no less strict than this Agreement. Following the expiry of the Retention Period, the recipient Party shall either return or destroy the Retained Information, and on the other Party's request, a director of the recipient Party shall certify in writing that the Recipient has complied with this obligation.

7.6 Termination will not prejudice or affect any right of action or remedy already accrued to either Party.

7.7 Notwithstanding any termination of an Agreement the provisions which by their nature are intended to survive such termination will remain in full force and effect including without limitation the obligations of confidentiality.

7.8 If a Party (the first Party) is prevented, hindered or delayed from performing any of its obligations under an Agreement by an EFM which continues for more than 30 days then the other Party may immediately terminate that Agreement without liability to the first Party on giving written notice of termination to the first Party.

7.9 In the event of expiry or termination of an Agreement, upon request from Telefonica, the Parties shall agree in good faith a timetable for: (i) the provision of exit support by Supplier; and (ii) the migration of the Services to Telefonica or a Future Supplier, such that migration shall be completed by the end of the migration period, as agreed between the Parties.

8. FORCE MAJEURE

8.1 Subject to the remaining provisions of this clause, to the extent that either Party is prevented, hindered or delayed from performing any of its obligations under an Agreement by an EFM beyond such Party's reasonable control, such Party's obligation to perform its obligations under that Agreement will (during the continuation of the EFM) be read and construed as an obligation to perform such obligations to the best level reasonably achievable in the circumstances.

8.2 Notwithstanding clause 8.1, if Supplier claims that it is affected by an EFM, such claim shall be valid only to the extent that a prudent supplier operating to standards expected of a leading supplier of the Deliverables in question could not have foreseen and prevented or avoided the effect of such EFM.

8.3 A Party claiming to be affected by an EFM will not be entitled to invoke the provisions of clause 8.1 unless it performs fully the following obligations: (a) on becoming aware of any EFM it shall have notified the other Party by the most expeditious method then available, giving details of the EFM, the obligations on its part which are affected and its reasonable estimate of the period for which such failure or delay will continue; (b) it takes all reasonable steps to prevent, avoid, overcome and mitigate the effects of such EFM; and (c) as soon as reasonably practicable after the end of the EFM shall notify the other Party in writing that the EFM has ended and resume performance of its obligations under this Agreement.

If a Claim is made: (A) Telefonica shall: (i) inform Supplier of it; (ii) provide Supplier (at Supplier's expense) with such assistance as Supplier may reasonably require in connection with defending the same; and (iii) make no admission of liability without Supplier's prior written consent (such consent not to be unreasonably withheld); and (B) Supplier shall (i) replace the infringing material with non-infringing material that functions and performs at least as well as the infringing material and complies with any relevant Specification or other requirements of an Agreement, or (ii) obtain the right for Telefonica lawfully to possess and use in accordance with the provisions of these Telefonica PTs all the relevant Deliverables and/or documentation and to exercise the rights granted under an Agreement. In the event that Supplier is unable to provide either of the remedies set out in B(i) or B(ii) above to Telefonica's satisfaction, Supplier shall refund to Telefonica all amounts paid to Supplier under the applicable Agreement.

9.2 The following matters shall be excluded from the indemnity contained in clause 9.1 above (except to the extent that such matters are contemplated and agreed by the Parties having regard to the provisions of an Agreement, and Supplier's actual knowledge of Telefonica's intentions as to the use of Deliverables): (i) infringements arising directly from the use of Confidential Information supplied by Telefonica, where Supplier's use of such Confidential Information in the performance of an Agreement and in accordance with the terms of the Agreement is the sole and direct cause of such infringement; (ii) infringements arising from the modification of the Deliverables or Documentation by Telefonica where such modification is not authorised by or within the reasonable contemplation of Supplier and the claimed infringement arises solely and directly from such modification; (iii) infringements arising from the combination, operation or use of the Deliverables or Documentation with any hardware, software or other device not furnished by the Supplier; and (iv) infringements arising from Telefonica's failure to promptly implement an update or modification to the Deliverable which has been communicated by the Supplier to Telefonica in writing.

11. ENTIRE AGREEMENT

11.1 Each Agreement (including the terms of any relevant PO) constitutes the entire agreement between the Parties in relation to its subject matter, and replaces and extinguishes all prior agreements, draft agreements, arrangements, undertakings, or collateral contracts of any nature made by the Parties, whether oral or written, in relation to such subject matter.

11.2 Each Party acknowledges that in entering into an Agreement, including a PO, it has not relied upon, and shall have no rights or remedies (whether in tort, under statute or otherwise) in respect of any statements, collateral or other warranties, assurances, undertakings or representations (whether innocently or negligently made) by the other Party unless expressly set out in the relevant Agreement, PO or Specification.

12. SEVERABILITY

If any of the provisions of an Agreement is invalid, illegal or unenforceable, the rest of an Agreement will remain in effect and such provision(s) will be deemed modified to the extent necessary to render such term or provision enforceable, and the rights and obligations of the Parties will be construed and enforced accordingly, preserving to the fullest permissible extent the intent and agreements of the Parties as set out in such Agreement.

13. WAIVER

No failure or delay by either Party in enforcing its respective rights will prejudice or restrict the rights of that Party, and no waiver of any such rights or of any breach of any contractual terms will be deemed to be a waiver of any other right or of any later breach.

14. RELATIONSHIP OF THE PARTIES

The relationship between Telefonica and Supplier is that of purchaser and supplier. Nothing in an Agreement is intended to create a partnership or joint venture of any kind between the Parties, or to authorise either Party to act as agent for the other. Save where expressly so stated in an Agreement neither Party will have authority to act in the name of or on behalf of or otherwise to bind the other.

15. ASSIGNMENT AND SUB-CONTRACTING

15.1 Subject to clause 15.2, neither Party shall be entitled to assign, novate or otherwise to transfer any of its rights and/or obligations under an Agreement without the prior written consent of the other Party (not to be unreasonably withheld).

19.2 Supplier shall use its best endeavours to ensure that Supplier Personnel are aware of and comply with these requirements and that no Supplier Personnel unwilling to comply will be employed on any Telefonica Premises.

20. AUDIT AND PROVISION OF INFORMATION

20.1 Supplier shall, subject to agreeing confidentiality terms substantially similar to those in an Agreement, permit Telefonica (and its agents), as well as any representative of any regulatory authority with jurisdiction over any member of the Telefonica Group, to inspect, review, verify and take copies of any associated records and documentation in the control or possession of Supplier and/or Supplier Personnel relating to the provision of the Deliverables or the processing of Personal Data for the purpose of auditing the work provided for under an Agreement (including the accuracy of any amounts invoiced under an Agreement), or to audit as required to fulfil any legal, regulatory, statutory or reporting obligation, or obligations to members, shareholders or clients of any member of the Telefonica Group. Telefonica shall where reasonably possible provide 30 days' written notice to the Supplier prior to conducting an audit. Telefonica shall have the right to audit the Supplier once in any 12 month period, unless otherwise required by law, regulation or an investigation. Supplier shall provide Telefonica and its authorised representatives all reasonable assistance in exercising its right of audit under this clause 20.

20.2 If an audit reveals that there has been any overpayment of the Charges, the amount of the overpayment shall be reimbursed (including interest accrued at the rate set out in clause 6) by the Supplier within 30 days of receipt of Telefonica's invoice for such sum. This is without prejudice to Telefonica's other rights in relation to such breach. Where the audit reveals a significant overpayment by Telefonica (in excess of 5% of the Charges properly due in the period covered by the audit), the Supplier will also reimburse the costs and expenses incurred by Telefonica in conducting the audit.

Such description shall, as a minimum, contain such information set out in Schedule 4 below. In this regard, the Processor shall comply with Data Protection Legislation when processing the Personal Data and that Party shall:

- (a) act solely on the instructions of the Party providing the Personal Data in relation to the processing of that Personal Data. In the event that a legal requirement prevents the Processor from complying with such instructions or requires the Processor to process the Personal Data otherwise than in accordance with such instructions, the Processor shall, unless such legal requirement prohibits it from doing so, inform the other party of the relevant legal requirement before carrying out the relevant processing activities;
- (b) at all times, ensure that the necessary technical and organisational measures are in place to prevent unauthorised, accidental or unlawful processing or disclosure of such Personal Data and such measures shall include but not limited to taking reasonable steps to ensure the reliability of any of its staff who may have access to the Personal Data and ensuring that such staff are subject to appropriate confidentiality undertakings or are under an appropriate statutory obligation of confidentiality. - (d) send to the other Party any communications received from Data Subjects in relation to their Personal Data without undue delay. Taking into account the nature of the processing, the Processor shall provide such reasonable assistance as the other Party may reasonably request to enable it to satisfy its obligations with respect to responding to any Data Subjects exercising their rights under the Data Protection Legislation;
- (e) give the other Party reasonable assistance in relation to its compliance with Data Protection Legislation;
- (f) take reasonable steps to ensure the confidentiality, integrity, availability and resilience of processing systems and services associated with the processing of Personal Data;

- (h) notify the other Party without undue delay, and in any event within 24 hours, of any Personal Data Breach and assist the other Party with any investigation into and remediation of a Personal Data Breach, including but not limited to assistance to enable the other Party to satisfy its obligations under the Data Protection Legislation with respect to notifications to a regulatory authority and/or the affected Data Subjects;
- (i) notwithstanding any other clause in this Agreement, not subcontract any of its obligations under this Agreement regarding the processing of Personal Data to a third party (a "Sub-Processor") without the prior written consent of the other Party. Where consent is provided, the Processor shall be liable for the acts and omissions of the Sub-Processor as if they were the acts or omissions of the Processor itself and the Processor shall ensure that there is a written contract executed between the Processor and the Sub-Processor that contains essentially equivalent protections for the Personal Data as are set out in this Agreement; and
- (j) on request by the other Party or otherwise upon termination or expiry of this Agreement, immediately cease processing the Personal Data and immediately supply or return any Personal Data to the other party or delete all Personal Data (including any copies thereof) in accordance with the other Party's instructions, unless a legal requirement requires retention of the Personal Data.
